Year-End Tax Moves For Farmers, Ranchers Are Outlined

College Station — With 1983 winding down, farmers and ranchers need to look at their income tax situations and to consider certain strategies for reducing tax dollars.

In a year which brought the government a record $100 billion in new tax revenue, farmers and ranchers have much to ponder from an income tax viewpoint," says Dr. James Ahrens, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

A general recommendation for tax planning is to try to level out taxable income from year to year to avoid jumping through several tax brackets from one year to the next," says Ahrens. "Leveling your income from year to year will almost always save tax dollars over the long run."

For finding out where one stands on 1983 taxable income, tax tables and schedules reflect a 10 percent reduction from the 1982 tax rate. Substantial investment credits and other credits after making the calculations. For planning purposes, 1984 tax rates will be only 1 percent less than 83 rates.

Producers who took part in PIT must decide when to receive their entitlements, if they haven't already done so. Those who have received their entitlements may have to report them as 1983 income even though they don't plan to sell their commodities until after the first of next year. It all depends on whether the PIT a producer receives is from his own loan or reserve commodity and whether he has assigned his PIT entitlement to someone else, Ahrens explains.

Many PIT participants are facing prospects of higher than usual income and lower than usual expenses. Producers in this situation can take certain steps to reduce their 1983 tax burden: delay additional sales of commodities until 1984 or sell now and take payment next year on a deferred payment contract, and buy supplies ahead before the end of the year.

"In addition, income averaging might be a move for lowering the 1983 tax burden, especially if income this year is considerably higher than the past few years."

"Producers should also realize that crop insurance proceeds need not be included in income until 1984 if the crop would normally have been sold this year," the economist points out. "This (CONT. ON PAGE 7)

Slaughter Cattle, Hogs Sold Easier At Markets Monday

The central markets on Monday reversed their fields compared to a week ago as the storms grip on livestock movement was relaxed and the buying side, especially on slaughter cattle was out after "give backs" on the sharp advanced last week. Market supplies of slaughter cattle were more than double last Monday and hog receipts were almost double. Monday's estimated cattle kill was 131,000, or 68,000 above a week ago and 7,000 higher than last year. Monday's estimated hog kill at 358,000 was 88,000 higher than a week earlier 61,000 more than last year.

Signing of Dairy Bill Brings Little Calm to Texas

Disappearance of 50 Million Bushels Of Drought Feed Grains Fuels More Controversy, Footdragging Charged

BY TED GOULD.

President Ronald Reagan last week signed the controversial 15-month dairy program bill as expected, although it was not favored by his Secretary of Agriculture and red meat producers and consumers. The bill not only continues heavy government price supports, but becomes entangled in non-related problems ranging from the new support program for tobacco, but also included legislation to force Secy. of Agriculture John Block to make available corn for drought livestock feed.

Cattle and hog producers fear the effects that as dairymen cut hard, to take advantage of the $10 payment for each 100 pounds of milk production they reduce, would have disastrous effect on beef prices and from 600,000 to a million cows are culled. The bill also is reported to have USDA forces tied up with the details on how it will be applied and when deadlines will emerge.

Currently it appears that massive dairy cow culling may not begin until late January or February at the earliest. This thinking is based on the amount of time it will take dairyman to become familiar with the rules and decide what their best move may be.

The bill calls for a .50 cents check-off on each 100 pounds of milk produced, and government sources maintain this should go a long way toward paying for the "Payment in Cash" for not producing milk. The allowance for 10% to 30% of the reduced milk supply to call for the $10 per hundred pounds bounty has developed some interesting speculation.

For instance, R. J. Smalley, the premier milk producer in North Texas, figures he can clear somewhere between $1 million and $1.2 million in the 15-month program period. Smalley, who has been operating a dairy for 20 years, has been operating a dairy for 20 years. In that time he has revolutionized the business in this area and applied modern economics and labor practices. His herd of near 2,500 cows in the dairy string has been a subject of controversy in local milk circles, but there has been no doubt that it has been a successful operation on a scale most milk producers never dreamed.

Smalley was quoted recently as saying if he could get into the program on the $1 million plus would be profit, since the feed and labor involved would not be an out of pocket expense. "For a million dollars, I'd walk all the way to California," he said. However, he criticized the plan as "welfare" and suggested that USDA could have controlled over-production of milk in other ways, including increases in dairy product imports.

The matter of milk price supports and prospective huge increases in beef production in the next few months are just a part of the controversy in Texas. Texas Sen. Lloyd Bentsen attached a rider to the dairy bill which would force Secy. Block to sell out of condition grain and corn in storage in Texas to ranchers in need of feed for range cattle and sheep to maintain herds decimated by the drought.

Texas Gov. Mark White and Texas Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower have kept up a drum fire of criticism of USDA, President Reagan and Secy. Block which began before they were elected. Hightower, in particular has been complaining loud and long and demanding that USDA do more for Texas farmers and ranchers.

Just this week he drew heavy fire from Deputy Secretary of Agriculture John Ford, a Texasan, far remarks made at a news conference in which Hightower accused the Reagan administration of "foot dragging" in releasing the stored grain. Ford said "to come up with that graceless comment put us over the top as far as our tolerance is concerned." He continued, "I do think the taxpayers of Texas and the country deserve to have public servants in different parties working together. Frankly, I'm disappointed yesterday that we've down the delivery of the grain."

Ford said 150 hours after President Reagan signed the bill the grain will be available. "We were here late Tuesday beginning work on implementation. The Commissioner and his staff knew that it was highly cynical and inappropriate to make an issue of it," Ford said.

While most observers pay little attention to the efforts of Hightower to needle the Reagan administration as strictly partisan politics and an effort by Hightower to build an image that will enable him to run for higher office in the future, the controversy has not helped Texas and Texans in other areas since Texas is not overly supplied with friends in Washington and other parts of the country at best.

However, no sooner had the arguments over the quality of the grain and the availability of it than a brand new spat sprang out.

Originally, the estimate on the amount of old grain available had run in the 80 to 85 million bushel range. This grain had been in storage since the embargo on shipments to the Soviet was put in place by President Jimmy (CONT. ON PAGE 2)

Paleface Post $2580 On 91 Red Brangus Yearling Bulls

The twelfth annual Paleface Ranch Red Brangus Bull Sale was held November 18 at the ranch near Spicewood, TX. Performance conscious commercial ranchers as well as registered Red Brangus breeders seeking herd sire prospects combined to make this sale average $2580 on 91 yearling bulls. Eighty-two of these bulls went to commercial buyers for an average of $1800, while the bulls going to purebred breeders averaged $2761.

These progressive Red Brangus breeders were taking advantage of the Paleface Ranch genetics and past performance records to make a lasting positive influence on their herds. There were 32 buyers from Texas, California, Colorado, Florida, Oklahoma and Oregon.

Topping the sale at $25,500 was PFR Duplicate 96th's 400/3, a September 1982 son of PFR Oscar's Duplicate 94/6. He went to Triple Creek Ranch of Houston.

McCoy Ranch and C & B Bluff Ranch of Lampasas joined forces to give $14,800 for a January 6, 1988 son of PFR Performer's 350/6. Graham Cattle Company of Austin gave $8100 for a November 1982 son of 350/6.

Three Corcora Ranch of Gilmer gave $7500 for a December 1982 hard bull prospect. Then the next two top selling bulls were $4900 and $4800 going to Triple J Ranch of Pittsburg, TX and Bena Vista Cattle Co. of Bend, OR.

Volume buyers at the sale included Tejuco Ranch of Leake, CA with 24 bulls and Jack Hamilton Ranch of Ardmore, OK buying 20 bulls, both being repeat customers. The third volume buyer was a new purchaser this year, Brandy Ranch of Byers, CO.

Auctioneer for the sale was Bert Reyes and sale manager was Syler Sales Management.

PFR Duplicate 96th's 400/3, high selling bull at the Paleface Ranch Red Brangus bull sale brought $25,500 going to Triple Creek Ranch of Houston, Texas.

PFR Performer 418/3, the second high selling bull at the Paleface Ranch Red Brangus bull sale brought $14,800 going to McCoy Ranch and C & B Bluff Ranch of Lampasas, TX.

Bull fever? That's what it appears to have gripped the futures markets this past week. All markets, livestock, grains, metals, currencies and the DOW, have rallied sharply over the past 6 trading days. There has been no new piece of news to cause such a spurt in prices, but we're in the midst of one heck of a rally across the board. If I had to single out one item that could have been the cause of this rally it would be the softness of the U.S. dollar this past week. Keep your eye on the dollar. Any more downward pressure there and the head of Chenina and Chianina cross cattle on December 16 at the Brush Livestock Auction in Brush, Colorado. Starting time is set for 11 a.m.

Selling will be 55 bulls, 385 cows, 210 first and second calf heifers and 240 steer and heifer calves. Cows will be pregnancy checked and blood tested.

For information, contact: Odle Cumberlin, Brush, Colorado, 303/842-2822.

Which Way From Here?
Generally speaking I do not like to be "bear" in the month of December. Right now, too many futures markets are at depressed levels and a sharp rally across the board is long overdue. This is particularly true for soybeans, wheat, corn, currencies and precious metals. The market psychology is not nearly as "bearish" now as it was two and three weeks ago. Most markets appear headed higher into late December or early January.

Livestock prices appear to have a solid base under them. Near term heavy hog slaughter and sloppy demand will make rallies for all livestock difficult. But, most commercials are generally buyers on price pull-backs and I look for that trend to continue. Both the December and February cattle reached the $64 level plus this week, that may be enough of a price rise for now. Don't choose these cattle! Bay the $1.50 to $2.50 brooks. I'm still very "bullish" down the road; hat, is commodity trading cocaine over where prices will be in 24 hours is often times more important! The February cattle option should dip back to the $90 to $81.50 level. That has been a level where quality commercial buylog was recovered in past weeks. Following a pull back to that level a move to $86, plus, should be coming. Jerry Welch, Commodity Specialist, Prudential-Bache Securities, 231 E. Benton, Suite 1400, Clayton, MO 63105. Toll Free 800-326-7879.

early winter storm hit the west and northwest portions of the country and gave the cattle an extra kick upwards. Commercial buying in cattle has been noticeably absent as of late, but they have been good buyers for the past several weeks. Slaughter levels remain quite high and that is a bothersome feature for this current rally. Today's hog slaughter hit 400,000 head, an all time record. At this writing, December hogs closed at $43.17, December cattle at $63.22, and February bellies at $60.30.

Move round bales as gently as hydraulics without leaving your pickup seat!

Priefert Hay Dolly

No winches
No hydraulics
No electrical connections

Don't Damage Your Roof!
When you get moisture under the roof of the bale, it can't dry out and this spoils the hay. The Priefert Hay Dolly never touches the roof, never drops or rolls the bale. With no bale damage, there's seldom bale spoilage.
The Priefert Hay Dolly hooks to your pickup or tractor with only simple pin hitch and trip rope. Because brakes are not required, the Hay Dolly works well in bad ground conditions. The simplicity of the Priefert bale mover will amaze you and assure you of a long, productive life for this unit.

Myth: The increase of fat consumption in the U.S. has resulted primarily from increased consumption of meat and other animal products.
 Fact: The average per capita level of animal fat in the food supply was 108 grams in 1947-49 and 99 grams in 1969. Average level of vegetable fat was 49 grams in 1947-49 and 70 grams in 1969. We still consume more animal fat than vegetable fat, but the increase in fat intake has resulted entirely from increased use of vegetable fat. In 1980, fat and oils (including butter) contributed 48% of the fat in the U.S. food supply; all meats (including poultry and fish) contributed 36%; and all dairy products (not including butter) contributed 16%.

PRORICH FEEDS
 FROM THE HEART OF THE ROCKIES.
 A Testimonial...
 "This past winter I used Prorich supplemental feed on my cow herd. I was very pleased with the results. As the cattle came through the winter in better condition than ever before, the cattle shined off immediately and cycled earlier. Having used different feeds in the past I can appreciate the value of the Prorich formula."

Stuph & Thangs

th' money might be well spent, if there was some way to keep the ice from gettin' in on th' game.

Just this mornin' there was a piece in the paper that said th' good old boys at Pratt & Whitney Aircraft had come to th' conclusion they may have gauded Uncle Sam a wee bit under a couple of 1980 spare parts contracts and out of th' goodness of th' little hearts were goin' to give back $432,000 in overcharges. These folks are not alone in th' game of overcharge.

Just about every military contractor has now been fingered for charging hundreds and thousands of dollars for parts & tools which in some cases could be bought for pocket change in th' corner hardware store. This game is not limited to th' military contracts. Th' same kind of legal and illegal pocket-pickin' of Uncle Sam has been goin' on in every Govt. endeavor from food, medical care, and welfare of all kinds. Some of them Welfare Queens & Kings have been suckin' th' life blood of us taxpayers for ten of thousands of dollars by claimin' imaginary children to needless charges of all kinds. Chittin' on some way to get a cut of th' Govt. money has in too many cases been a one way ticket to Easy Street and practically instant wealth.

If Reagan & Co., and Th' O'Neill & Co., and th' rest of our politicians would just give this stuff a fraction of the attention those $200 Billion short falls could be trimmed by those billions needed to start th' Govt. livin' somewhere near its means. Frankly, we can't see th' difference between takin' money at gun point and ripplin' off th' rest of us in these various other ways.

If it takes a good dip or dunking or wormin' to get these parasites off our backs, then that's what th' folks who are supposed to be runnin' our Govt. are to concentrate upon.

Ever thine, The Editor.

P.S.: Uncle Dunk fingers Presidential Aspirants Mondale & Glenn as gittin' a lot of publicity with their potshots at each other and th' Republicans had better watch out. If they kles & makeup, they might have a tough ticket to run again Reagan next year. Outside leas Jackson, just might be th' catalyst that could bring that about as th' Democrats try to bring some kind of order to their campaign. Dunk claims th' folks in Texas and other oil states had better get braced. As oil and gas money runs shorter and shorter new taxes are on th' way for energy and sales taxes a sure as can shootin', - Thassal, Brother!
